

Editor's Corner

Almost three years ago, Dean Hutter, the amazing editor of the Twin Cities Meals on Wheels newsletter, one of the kindest persons I know and a friend through our working together at the Tonawanda News, talked me into taking over the newsletter.

The format was changed, the jokes were kept on the back page and of course Pam Hill's column that I looked forward to every month. (She's a terrific writer, witty and caring.)

Although stressful to put together, the result was a newsletter I've been proud of.

However, as they say, all good things must come to an end and this October issue is, sadly, the end.

Although not a driver or cook, I had an opportunity to meet a remarkable group of volunteers who care about each other as well as their clients.

Connie Rabideau always greeted me a smile and a friendly little chat, and of course, Pam

Hill is one in a million.

I reconnected with my cousin, Debbie Balling, joked with Betty Ziegler and met great people, the list of which is too long to print.

Being editor made me a member of the Board, led by Jim Burke. We often thought alike with a few arguments and disagreements thrown in for good measure. However, the board leaders did the best they could and feel as badly about this situation as anyone.

An article by FeedMore was supposed to be part of this newsletter, however, they are no doubt tied up in all the activity they encompass and we should all hear from them soon.

My prayer is that you will continue your loving care of our housebound neighbors and keep up the friendships you have crafted here and find a few new jokes!
